DEDICATION

TO OUR PARENTS

whose interest, love and foresight, instigated the compilation of our family book I. Had it not been for them our family books might never have been written, nor family ties renewed.

TO OUR ANCESTORS.

“Out of the past—into the future” may we apply these words to the greatest heritage we have—The Word of God, handed down to us by our ancestors.

The Bible, Luthers small Catechism and Explanation book were their best loved and most used solace and guide through life. May we and our future generations continue to build upon the same firm foundation.

The last words of farewell between dear ones to be left behind and those venturing out upon treacherous waters in mere sail boats in pursuit of a better future was the singing in unison of Luthers great hymn “A Mighty Fortress is Our God.” Those, who as they landed, to become pioneers in a strange land again raised their voices to the same hymn, in admiration, praise and thanksgiving to the same God.

Surely their lives manifest a strong faith; May memories also strengthen ours.

TO ALL

whose expressions and acts of kindness have given encouragement and comfort during the compilation of our family book II.

Your words “God bless you in this work” are especially gratifying. May all the beautiful friendships I enjoy so much, spread throughout our entire relationships.

“Blest be the tie, that binds our hearts in christian love.”

Mrs. A. Sivesin

OUR FAMILY

Our happy family is as a book
We children are its pages;
Our parents are the covers
Which protect us through the ages.

At first the pages of our book
Were blank and neatly bare;
But time soon wrote some memories

Love is the lingering golden clasp
That keepeth its loyal trust;
Oh! break it not, lest any pages
Be scattered and be lost.

“Kjos and Eggebraaten” were the saga names,
Faith was its inspiration;
Hope the purpose of this book,
And you its preservation.

P R E F A C E

In compiling our "Kjos-Eggebraaten" family book II I feel I should relate the incidents which have led up to it. Some years back a few descendants of the Kjos and (Eggebraaten) Ruen families gathered annually for a family picnic in the city park in Decorah, Iowa or at some family home.

In 1939 Pastor William T. Hexom, a Ruen descendant, accepted a call to serve Big Canoe and Highland Congregations, 11 miles N.E. of Decorah, Iowa. Learning of all the relatives in these parts he suggested a family reunion. Not knowing who they all were, he asked me to invite all relatives to a reunion at the Big Canoe church parlors on August 25, 1940. About 150 relatives attended, and an organization was formed with the following elected as its first officers:

President—Pastor William Hexom, Decorah, Iowa
Vice-president—Mrs. Olaf J. Hanson, Decorah, Iowa
Secretary—Mrs. Emil Trehus, Spring Grove, Minnesota
Treasurer—Olaus Ruen, Waukon, Iowa
Historian—Mrs. Alfred Sivesin, Decorah, Iowa

In tribute to the Charter Members of the family picnics, our reunion was named "Ruen Reunion."

With interest and membership steadily growing it was decided to meet annually in one of the following church parlors—Big Canoe, Iowa, Spring Grove, Minnesota, First Lutheran in Decorah, Iowa, Glenwood, Iowa, Washington Prairie, Iowa, Decorah Lutheran and in 1962 Burr Oak, Iowa was added to the list.

Other family reunions to my knowledge are:

The Eggebraaten reunion meeting annually in Madison, S. Dak.
The Hanson reunion (a Kjos branch) semi-annually in or near Blue Earth, Minnesota.

The Babcock-Pratt-Young reunion (Eggebraaten branch) annually in or near Redwood Falls, Minnesota.

The Jens Ruen reunion, annually at Tyler, Minnesota.

A few of our elders voiced their interest in having a family book. Foremost in this were Margaret Haugen, Mina Ruen, Mrs. Clara Ehrie, Peter Bergrud, Olaus Ruen and Melvin Sandbeck. Others readily agreed and thus began my work of compiling family history.

I found this curiously fascinating from the start. I learned my great grandparents had seven children, each had a son named Peter, named for their grandfather, that Ole H. Eggebraaten, Peder H. Eggebraaten Ruen and Iver H. Eggebraaten were full brothers, as were Amund Kjos Elvestuen and Ole Elvestuen Kjos. In Norway, the traditional custom was that the oldest son inherit his fathers farm; other sons on buying farms adopted the surname of its former owner. In the absence of a son, the oldest daughter inherited the farm and if married, her husband assumed the surname of her father. I also learned of four Marthe Myrahs of the same family, there was Marthe, old Marthe, middle Marthe and little Marthe. Quite often several members in the same family had almost indential names, as John, Johan and Johannes or a father and son nicknamed old Ole and little Ole.

My enthusiasm increased along with the progress of the work. When I had gleaned sufficient materials and had the records beginning well in the way towards a possible book, I chose Mrs. Joe Blegen (nee Eleanor Ruen) as my co-worker. Because of the war, we were unable to contact Norway for authentic records, hence book I was compiled much on mere hearsay except for old obituaries, letters, old Norwegian books and the recollections of our parents. We early realized book I would be a forerunner of a second book when more complete and authentic information could be had. We worked hard and book I was published and distributed in 1947.

H A D E L A N D   N O R W A Y

Hadeland, is the birth place of our Kjos and Eggebraaten ancestors.

Norway is divided into six provinces, each province into districts, each district into parishes and each parish into as many as ten farms under one ownership.

Brandbu Parish
taken by Sophie Westby Jacobson 1911

The Hadeland district is in the Oslo province, and comprises the parishes of Gran, Brandbu, Jevnaker and Lunner. This upland country was in early times called Hada or Hod, meaning the land of warfare, "Kamp".

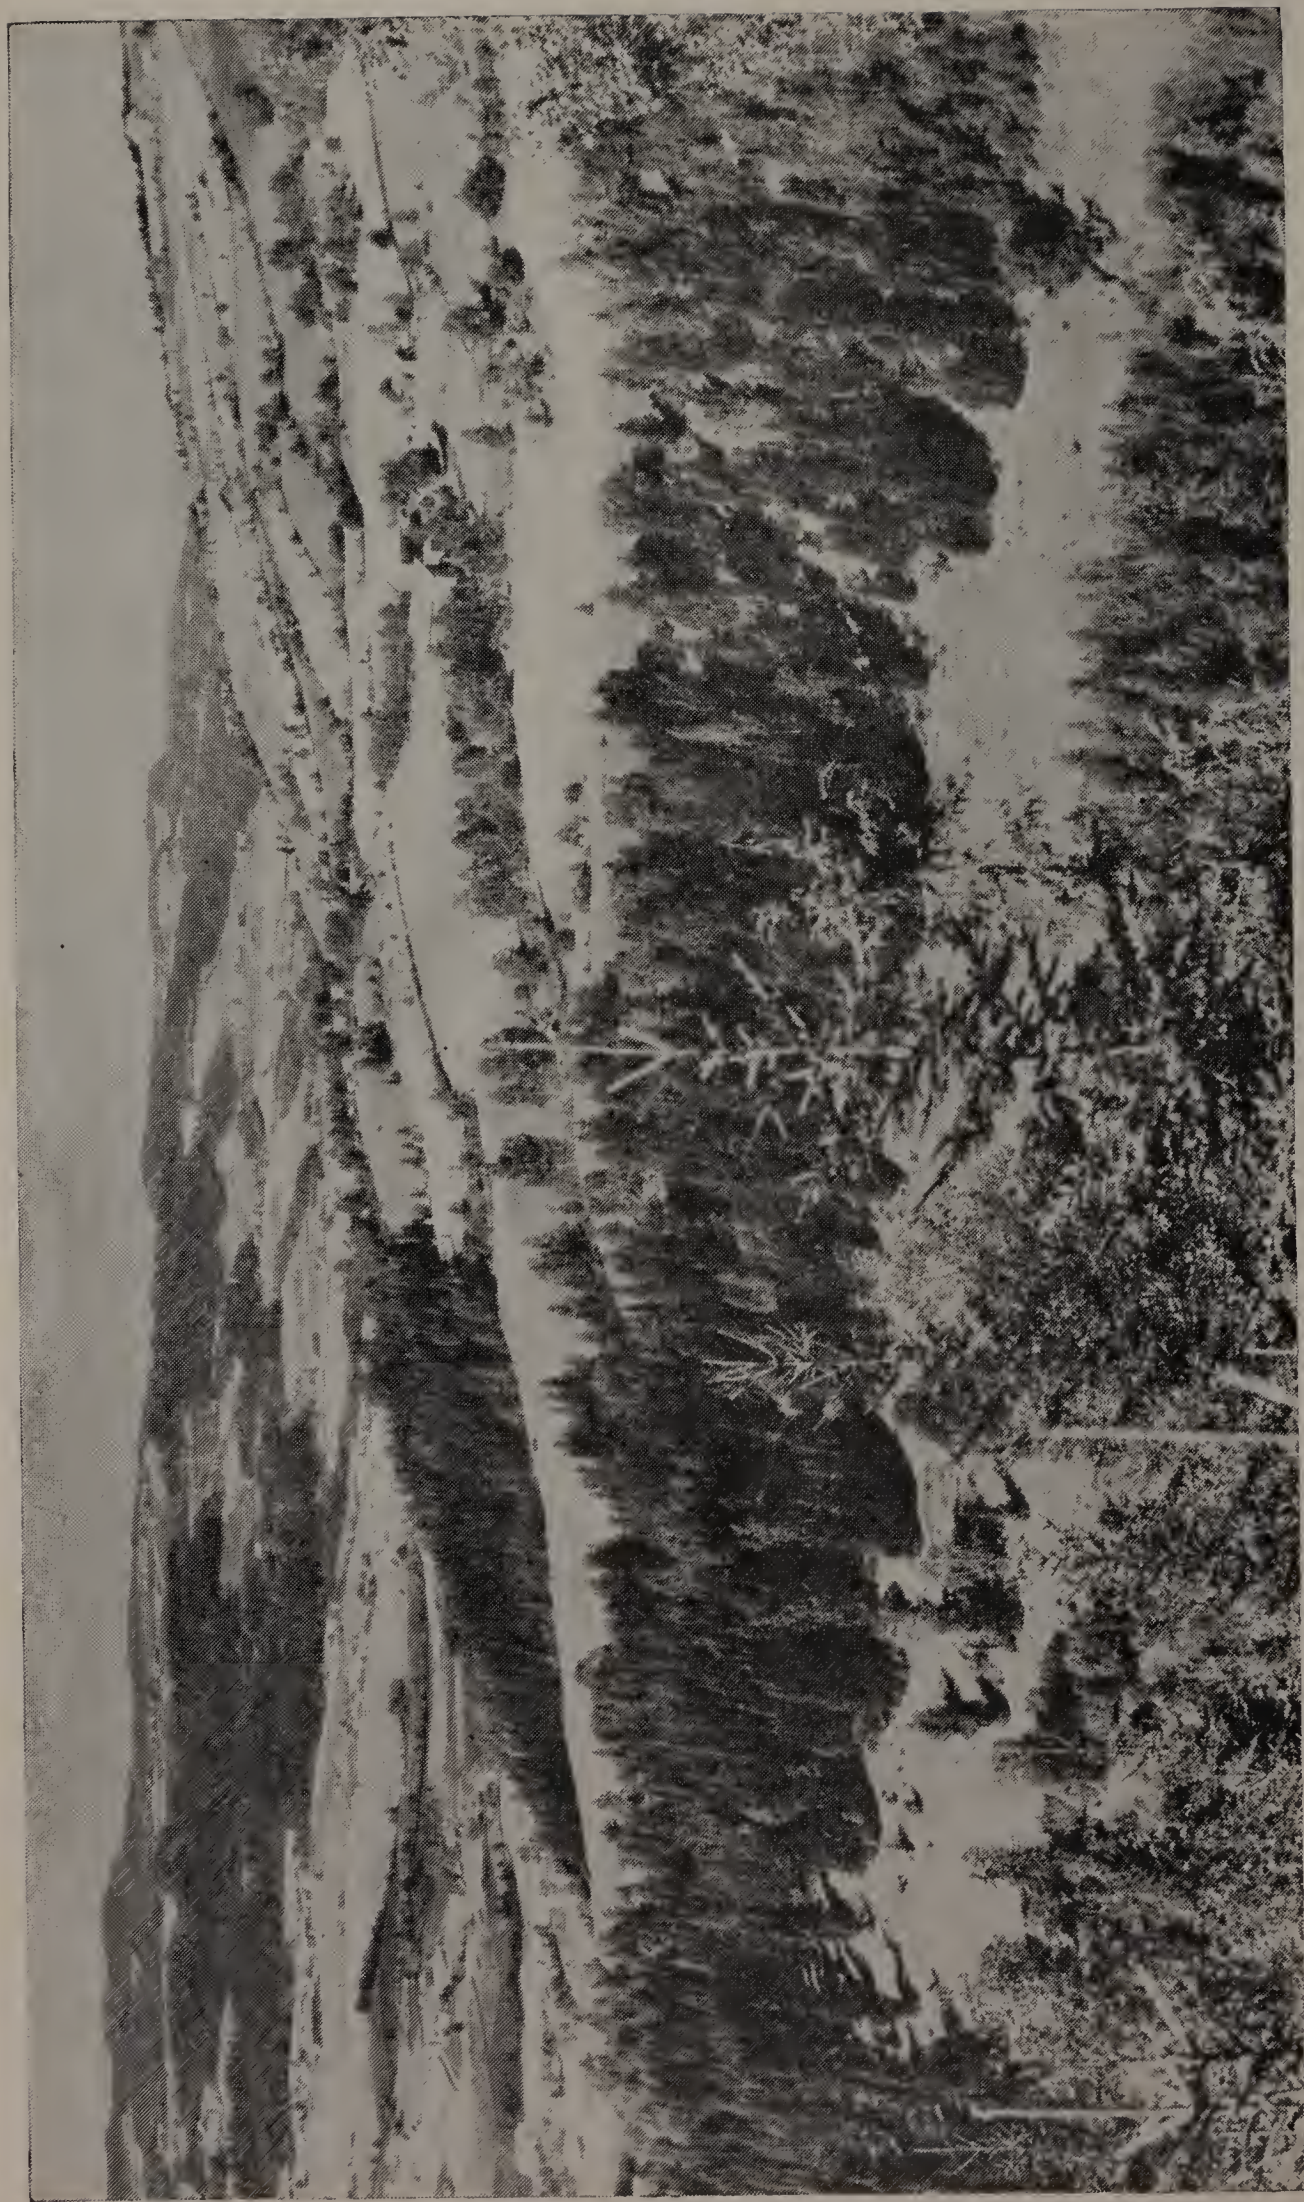

Gran lies forty-five miles northeast of Oslo, the capital of Norway.

The scenery in Hadeland is beautiful the year around. The rich agricultural lands of Hadeland and Land encircle the beautiful cool waters of the Randsfjord, which is 7 miles long and 1½ miles wide. One need walk only a short distance to fish for salmon, trout, pickerel and other choice fish. Farms here are well planned and will tilled small acreages of even size.

Lumbering is carried on quite extensively; the logs are dragged to the Drammen river and floated down to the pulp mill at Drammen. Numerous saw mills are located along streams and rivers.

Agriculture and dairying are important occupations. Hadeland today is as modern as our own country in most every respect. Hadeland is well known for its large glass factory of fine crystal wares which have won numerous medals at International exhibitions including Philadelphia.

Hadeland Scenery

The climate of Hadeland is quite different from ours, the winters are longer and darker but are warmer. Winter scenes are beautiful with the snow laden evergreen woodlands and hills having numerous ski tracks in deep snow in all directions. Hadeland has many ski and skating grounds. Many of the world's ski champions have come from here.

The summers are cool although the sun never sets from May until July. One scarcely notices the fading of day into night. Thunder storms are rare in Norway. Hadeland is one of the oldest occupied districts in Norway. Our curiosity is therefore aroused as to who our early ancestors were. Some tell us they were Romans, others think they were a Germanic race living in Scandinavia as early as 1000 - 400 B.C. Still others claim a pre-Aryan race came from Siberia and being subjected to slavery, in time became a part of the Norwegian People. Remnants found through the years show that Hadeland was rebuilt during the early stone age, about 2,000 years B.C. About 25 such remnants have been found.

In 1880 a flint dagger having a four sided handle and a boat shaped stone axe were unearthed on the Kjos farm in Brandbu. In 1848 a knife having a handle shaped like the head of an animal was brought in from a burial mound in Gran. Bronze articles such as necklaces and breast pins came from Vestby and Lunner. The majority of antiques disclosing the Bronze age also came from Brandbu and Gran.

From the period of Christ's birth through 400 A.D. comparatively more bronze articles were in use. Graves opened, disclosed spears, buckles, helmets, ornaments etc., coming from Gran and Jevnaker. From the iron age, few relics have been found. In 1860 a two-edged sword and two iron spears were found on the Eggebraaten farm in Brandbu. In 1925 five graves were opened in Gran, revealing burned bones of humans, horses and dogs, besides several iron kettles, ornaments and fragments of bronze.

The people of Norway were divided into classes. The uppermost were the big land owners (stor bonder) who held many farms by inherited rights and titles.

Next in line were the peasants who were land owning freemen (bonder). The lowest class were the dependants who owned no lands, but rented small acreages at specified prices, in early times usually twelve cents a day in the summer and six cents a day in winter. These were called "husmend."

A few of the names of our family tree date back, showing them to be ancient farm names, as Kjos, Egge, Blegen, and Tompt. The Eggebraaten is one of six Egge "gaards" farms.

Prior to the Unification of Norway under a National Monarchy, each district had its own tribal chieftain who with his earls were the leaders in all functions. The oldest Confederacy is believed to be that of Heiner which included Hadeland. The place of Assembly was at Eidsvold.

This was organized by Halvdan "den svarte", (the black), who through warfare and marriage had gained rule over many districts. Upon his death, his young son Harald inherited the rulership. Two years later he wooed the daughter of Adil "the rich" who had inherited the districts of Land and Toten, and promised she would marry Harald when and if he would gain all the district of Norway and become its king. Harald gathered an Army and soon gained one district after another. He permitted the districts of Hadeland, Toten, Land, Valdres, Hedemarken, Gudbrandsdal, Vinger Odalen and Solar to retain their own local kings, but they were to be his bondsmen. Following the ten year warfare in 872, he unified Norway and became King Harald Haarfagre, king of the entire land.

During his reign Iceland was discovered by two big land owners who refused to live under a king and pay taxes.

During the early years of the 5th Century, Catholic Missionaries had been working in England, Scotland, France and Germany. Some of the greatest Missionaries were Monks who through their strong love for Christ left their Monasteries to go out and convert heathens. King Haarfagre was a christian and refused to bow to any god other than the God in heaven.

In 997 A.D. King Olav Trygvassen, a great grandson of King Haarfagre began to christianize Norway. This was first introduced into the uplands of Hadeland, Toten, Land, Ringerike etc.

(In 1000 Leif Erikson, a Norwegian living in Iceland discovered America).

In 1015 Olav Haraldsen, also a descendant of Haarfagre became king of Norway. At this time people were not only worshipping pagan gods, but were also practicing sorcery and witchcraft. King Olav became very bitter towards all such vanities and forced people into conversion. In 1021 he converted Gudbrandsdal and Viken. In Gudbrandsdal he met in court with their ruler "Dale" Gudbrand. Court was held on the Hundorp farm in Fron where a huge gold and silver statue of their god Tor, also his picture were set before the group, to which they all bowed. Gudbrand then asked King Olav to show them his God, to which he replied "You think to scare us with your god who is both blind and deaf and who can save no one, not even himself. I fear he shall soon come to naught. Look to the east and you shall see our God coming with the light of day". The sun was just making its appearance. Just at this moment Kolbein, one of the king's men clubbed the statue and mice, rats and toads ran from it, causing the people to flee. Shortly after this, a second court was held when the people adopted Christianity and the first church was built on Gudbrands farm.

King Olav Haraldsen fell in the battle of Stikelstad in 1030, a bloody battle between 3,600 christians and 14,000 heathens. King Olav was dressed in chain mail and wore a helmet of gold. On his left arm he carried a white sword inlaid with a gold cross, on his right arm hung a spear and at his side a sword. The heathen leader, Thore Hund ordered "Advance" King Olav ordered "Advance, Men of Christ, Men of the Cross, the King's Men". The morning opened bright and clear, but an eclipse of the sun occurred, causing total darkness, by mid-afternoon. King Olav was killed at 35, on August 31, 1030 in a mighty attempt to christianize his people. After his death he was given the title "Saint Olav" and his people united in making Norway a christian country. The first church in Gran was built as a Monestary. The first churches built in Gran were the sister churches, the Maria and the Nikolai churches built in the twelfth Century. In 1355 the Kjos church was built in Brandbu. In 1430 Olav Nilsen became the first minister of the first parish of Hadeland to which the entire district belonged.

The middle of the 15th century marked the period of the Reformation.

While Martin Luther was preaching in Germany against the false teachings of the church, the wicked and ungodly living of the priests, rulers and people, other men were also preaching against these same evils in other countries. When Tetzels came near Wittenburg, Germany, selling indulgences supposed "to give full pardon for all sins", Luther knew through his study of the Bible, that Gods forgiveness could not be bought—hence his 95 Theses on the Wittenburg Church door—one of these being "Pardon for sin is from Christ and is free".

In 1537 Lutheranism became the established religion of Norway, although it wasn't until during the reign of Christian IV that the entire country became Lutheran. Luther's translations of the Bible into German, inspired many others to make translations in their countries. The first Lutherans who came to America were the French Huguenots who settled in Florida in 1564 but were beheaded by the Spaniards in 1565 whose placards on a cross near their graves said, "We slew them, not because they were French, but because they were Lutherans".

In 1619, one year before the Puritans came, the first Lutheran Cemetery was dedicated in America, when 40 Danes of a crew who landed here, seeking the North West passage to India, were buried on Hudson Bay. In 1620 their Pastor Rasmus Jensen was also buried here. Just before his death he had delivered the first Lutheran Christmas service on American soil.

In 1624 the first Protestant Missionary to the American Indian was the Rev. Johan Campanus, a Lutheran Minister in the Swedish and Finnish colony on the Delaware river. The first book translated into an American Indian dialect was Luthers small Catechism by Rev. Johan Campanus in 1646.

In 1763 the first ordination of a Lutheran Pastor born and educated in American soil was that of Rev. Jacob Von Buskirk, born at Hackensack, New Jersey

On July 4, 1776, the sexton who rang the liberty bell was a Lutheran.

One of the first American flags was made by Sarah Austin and a group of ladies, all members of Gloria Dei Lutheran church, (now Episcopal) in Philadelphia and was presented to John Paul Jones. This flag received the first salute granted the Star Spangled Banner in Europe.

In 1790 the funeral services in connection with the burial of Benjamin Franklin was held in Zion Lutheran church in Philadelphia. Here also in 1799 the now famous words "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen" were first spoken on December 6 at the official memorial service at the death of George Washington, held for the members of Congress and spoken by Major General Harry Lee.

The first all English Lutheran churches in the world is the old St. Johns church in Philadelphia in 1806.

The first Norwegian Lutheran church in America is the Old Muskego church of 1843, built twenty miles southeast of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The first of our relationships came to Koshkonong, Wisconsin in 1848, just 27 years after the first Norwegian emigrants came to America.

The founders of Muskego were staunch followers of Hans Nielsen Hauge a layman who worked hard in his travels all over Norway, Denmark and elsewhere bringing Gods word to people in spite of numerous hardships.

For 18 years following the immigration of Norwegians to America, they were without ordained ministers, but being deeply religious, these people read their Bibles and other devotional books, sang hymns and witnessed for Christ both in private and public. Laymen often preached.

In 1839 a large group came from Telemark and Stavanger, and settled near Milwaukee, Wisconsin. They were headed by John Nilsen Luraas 25, and left Norway in May, arriving in September where they bought land for $1.25 an acre. The same year Elling Eielsen arrived in Fox River, Illinois. In 1840 Eielsen built a large house, the upper story of which was used for religious meetings.

Even Hanson Heg and family came to Muskego, Wisconsin in 1840 where he bought the farm of John Luraas, and Luraas moved to Stoughton, now Wisconsin Dells, Heg was one of the finest laymen. He built a big barn to be used for public services, also as a hotel for new-comers who passed through Wisconsin and westward.

Soren Bache and Johannes Johansen came to America in company with Eielsen. Soren wrote to his father Tollef Bache at Drammen, Norway to send a school teacher to America. Tollef consulted Claus L. Clausen who he knew was planning to become a foreign Missionary. Clausen who had studied theology under private tutors, inquired, concerning ordination. In 1843 he and his wife Martha came to Muskego, after Clausen had been presented with a call signed by 69 persons, to become Pastor of the local congregation. He was ordained by the German Lutheran Minister Rev. L. F. E. Krause who lived forty-eight miles from Muskego in the presence of Even Heg. Soren Bache and A. Hansen.

On October 18, 1843 Claus L. Clausen was ordained in accordance with the church Rituals of Denmark and Norway in the old Heg barn. Clausen, a Danish Lutheran, was ordained by a German Lutheran Minister to become a Pastor of a Norwegian Lutheran congregations, all Lutherans of national differences but in Common worship.

The Clausens came to Wisconsin during one of the three bad cholera epidemics. On the day after his ordination, Pastor Clausen conducted the first of 54 funerals in the next five months. Seventy-five people died that fall. One day there were eight funerals another day seventeen. At the time there was neither medicine nor any doctor.

Although Clausen's work was mostly among the Norwegians of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa, he also organized Danish congregations elsewhere.

Marthe Clausen will always be remembered as the author of the hymn "And now we bid one another farwell".

When a larger church became necessary "Old Muskego" was sold to a farmer who used it for a granary and later a stable. Hjalmer Rued Holland, the historian learned of this and suggested it be restored and preserved. Pastors Gjermund Hoyme and Gerhard Rasmussen were instrumental in raising the money for this. In 1904 it was moved to the campus of Luther Seminary in St. Anthony park, St. Paul, Minnesota, where it now stands. It has been renovated to its original condition and is well worth going to see. It is being visited annually by numerous people from far and near. Mention might also be made of the first Norwegian newspaper of its kind in America, which was enjoyed so much by our elders, the "Nordlyset" printed in the Heg barn by James Denoon Reymert. The first copy came off the press on July 29, 1847.

“Nordlyset” not only gave the people information in regards to their mother country as well as in America, but it also was a guide to American citizenship, secular and religious; gave these Norwegians an opportunity to express their individualism, was in strong protest of slavery, also a strong temperance paper.

Another paper our elders enjoyed through its many years Was the “Decorah Posten og Ved Arnen” founded by Brynjild Anundsen in 1874.

From then on, the paper grew to become the largest Norwegian language paper in the United States.

Few were the Norwegians who didn't have “Decorah Posten”. As children many of us recall our parents and grandparents eagerly waiting to read it and when they finished we children took our turn at parts to our interest. Like “Nordlyset.” Decorah Posten comprises reading for all ages as well as a variety of subjects both abroad and at home.

In 1947 B. B. Anundsen, son of the late Brynjild Anundsen became president and manager of the Anundsen Publishing Company. He is also president of the Decorah News Company, Publishers of the Decorah Public Opinion and the Decorah Journal.

In 1953 his son John (Jack) joined the staff as Associate Manager.

Of interest to our readers is the fact that B. B. Anundsen is also Royal Norwegian Vice Consul for the state of Iowa.

Our book I and book II of Family History and records have been published by the Anundsen Publishing Co., of Decorah. I am sure you all will join me in a big “Thank You” and our appreciation of their efficiency and consideration they have shown in working on our book. I have found them very courteous and considerate at all times for which I am very grateful.

RUEN REUNION SONG

Tune: Marching Through Georgia

We are a happy reunion band, We meet once every year,
We're leaving all our cares behind, And come here full of cheer;
The young, the old, the short, the tall. We represent them all.
We are the Ruen Reunion!

Cho.: We're here, we're here, to spend a happy day,
It's fun, it's fun we hope you all can say;
Reunions are for all the folks, their relatives to meet.
We are the Ruen Reunion!

We have our two big family trees, And they have sturdy trunks,
The Eggebraaten name for one, and Kjos the other one.
And when these two big trees send forth their branches down through life

We in line become their descendants.

Cho.: We're here, we're here, we're here because of them,
And we say, we're satisfied this way.
We wouldn't have it otherwise, no matter who they'd be;
We're glad to be the Ruen Reunion.

In Hadeland, Norway, were the farms where these two families lived.

They raised them up from babes in arms to sturdy pioneers,
And then when these grew up, they came to America to seek their fame,

And now we have the Ruen Reunion.

Cho.: We're here, we're here, we're here because of them,
They've meant so much for us up to this day,
And generations yet to come, will reverence their name,
And carry on the Ruen Reunion.

The year when Anne Kjos and Peder Ruen wed,
It joined the two big families, And this is what we have;
We join our bands together then, As descendants of them all,
And call ourselves the Ruen Reunion.

Cho.: We're here, we're here, we're here because of them,
We love and praise all those who've gone before,
And when at last we meet some day upon that Golden Shore,
We'll all be with in God's Great Reunion.

We love and cherish memories of kinsfolk gathered here;
 Their smiles and greetings cheer our hearts with joy from year to year;
 And now we'll close with one big cheer — We'll meet again next year;
 Good luck to the Ruen Reunion.

Cho.: Goodbye, good luck, We'll all be back next year,
 With smiles and cheers for everyone who's dear;
 The family reunion is a treat for old and young alike,
WE ARE THE RUEN REUNION!

The more we get together, together, together,
 The more we get together the happier are we,
 For your folks are my folks, And my folks are your folks,
 The more we get together, the happier are we.

BIOGRAPHIES

E G G E B R A A T E N

Numerous attempts to trace our Eggebraaten relationship further back have proved futile. According to historians in Norway, the Church records when 80 years old are turned over to recorders and kept in offices in the larger cities. During bombings and frequent fires many of Norways valuable documents and records have thus been destroyed. In contacting individuals, no private records have been available other than what we have here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Eggebraaten lived and died in Hadeland, Norway. To our knowledge their family were I Ole, II Peder, III Iver, IV Anne, V Marthe and VI Espen.

I OLE H. EGGEBRAATEN fell heir to his fathers farm "Eggebraaten." He remained in Norway all his life. He married Anne Nels datter (daughter of Nels ———) and had a son Al. Hans Olsen Eggebraaten, born 1819 at Houtteim farm in Gran, Hadeland. In 1843 Hans married Anne Pedersdatter Egge, born on the Egge farm 1821, a daughter of Peder Jonsen Egge and Anne Egge. There were five Egge farms on Hadeland.

*Mr. and Mrs. Hans O. Eggebraaten

On May 5, 1850 Hans, Anne and their four small children Ole 6, Anders 5, Anne 3 and Johanne 1 day over 1 year old, left for America. Ingebor Strandbakken a first cousin of Hans, who had worked for them and whose fare they paid came along to help care for the children. In the same company were Hans's uncles Peder E. Ruen, Iver E. Sonsteby, his aunt Anne Svensrud and friend Hans Luvbraaten and Hans Blegen a cousin.

The Eggebraaten children obviously needed much watching. One day little Anders lost his cap over the rail, and was about to jump to retrieve it when Ingeborg grabbed him by the skirt just in time. Like other little boys at that time, Anders wore dresses—when grown he was a strapping giant who fought in many battles in the Civil War. The sail boat with its three hundred passengers spent many weeks on the water. Cholera raged and many died.

They landed in Quebec Canada—from there by canal boat and overland by oxen until they reached Dane County, Wisconsin where they remained until the next summer, when they moved to Iowa, arriving here July 13th. On this day their little son Peter was born.

The Eggebraatens became owners of a farm in Glenwood township, Winneshiek County which was their home for life.

They were the first Norwegians to settle in the eastern part of Glenwood. Hans Eggebraaten was the first post master at Washington Prairie in Glenwood township.

The Eggebraatens became parents of 13 children, their oldest son Ole having the distinction of becoming the “Champion Grandfather” of South Dakota. At the time of his death in 1929 he had 70 grand children, 42 great grand children and 2 great great grand children.

Peder Hansen Eggebraaten Ruen and Iver Hansen Eggebraaten Sonstebj were full brothers of Ole H. Eggebraaten. Their surnames differed when they bought farms bearing these names. Peder and Iver were called upon to fight in Norway's War with Sweden in 1814, returned home together safe and sound. Later they acquired farms of their own. With their families they came to America together in 1850. Both came to Wisconsin where they parted, Peder going on to Iowa. Although they lived in adjoining states Wisconsin and Iowa—through life, they never met again but they died the same day, October 15, 1879, Peder 91 and Iver 86

II PEDER H. EGGEBRAATEN RUEN was born in Eggeeie in Gran's parish Hadeland. In 1820 he married Ingebor Jensdter. They lived on Eggeeie. On May 28, 1821 twin sons were born to them. Both were baptized at home. Hans died shortly after baptism and on June 2, 1821 the mother also died.

In 1822 Peder was married to Anne, daughter of Ole Nilsen Kjos and wife Kjersti Ostens daughter Berven. Peder bought the Ruen farm, a small place under Bleiken ownership where their seven children were born. Although small Ruen was big enough to necessitate the use of a horse. The name Ruen was originally Runden—meaning a low knoll or hill, round in shape and whose sides were divided into small fields while trees, mostly birches covered the top. In the winter of 1850, the Ruens began preparations to leave for America. The girls helped their mother with food preparations, spinning and weaving for clothes etc. Anne wove a long length of a material called "vadmél" which Peder took to Oslo and sold for $50, making the long trip on foot. He was then in his 62nd year. On February 4, 1850 Ole and Hans received their immigration papers and on April 19th Peder received the papers of permit for himself, Anne and their three daughters. The sons Jens and Iver were married and had acquired homes of their own and didn't come to the United States until later. Leaving Hadeland in the same company as the Ruens were Iver Sonstebj, Peder and Ivers sister Anne Svensrød, nephew Hans Eggebraaten and family, Hans Blegen and wife and niece Ingebor Strandbakken.

Others were Hans and Marthe Lovbraate and daughters, Kjersti and Petrine. This was the largest group to leave Hadeland at one time and the whole community turned out to bid them farewell. On reaching Oslo they joined about three hundred other passengers and boarded the sail boat ("seilskute"). This was during the cholera epidemic and many who went to bed apparently well, were found dead in the morning. After six weeks on the water, Mrs. Peder Ruen succumbed to cholera and was lowered into a watery grave. On July 13th the survivors landed in Quebec, Canada where they remained in quarantine for three weeks, then traveled by boat down the St. Lawrence later by boat drawn by mules led along the canal's edge, finally overland reaching Koshkonong, Wisconsin. The Luvbraates went on to Iowa, the rest remained in Wisconsin until the next summer with the exception of the Sonstebys who remained in Wisconsin to make their home.

The Eggebraatens moved to Iowa in June 1851 where the Peder Ruens later received welcome at the Eggebraaten home.

The Ruens established themselves on a farm south of Eggebraatens, about twelve miles east of Decorah, then a hamlet of four or five families.

McGregor, Iowa was the first market place, a five or six day trip by oxen. Later Lansing, Iowa became a market place, was also a steamboat landing place where people could receive mail. In 1853 a small mill was erected here.

Peder Ruen spent his declining years at Carl Sivesinds and Ole Ruens. He died at Carl Sivesinds.

A1. JENS RUEN, born on Eggeie, Grans Parish, Hadeland, was cared for by his fathers sister Anne Hansdtr. Svensrud following his mothers death shortly after his birth.

Jens learned the art of tailoring in Norway. He also served a year as soldier in the war between Denmark and Germany. On May 28, 1842 he was married to Anna Olsdtr (Olsen). They were parents of five children, four of whom grew up. All were born in Norway. In 1865 they were renters on Kvernvollen under Bleiken and in 1867 they and their four children came to America to the home of Jens's half brother Hans in Glenwood township, Iowa. Hans had built a new house the year before, and Jens and family lived for a time in the old house. Jens acquired a farm a few miles north of Hans. Later they lived on a farm six miles south of Spring Grove, Minnesota on the Minnesota-Iowa line. Mrs. Jens Ruen, a good homemaker had excellent success in preserving fruits such as gooseberries and wild plums by submersion in cold water, and was known to make especially good lefse. Mrs. Anne Svensrud who had fostered Jens in his childhood lived with him the last years of her life. Jens spent his last years with his children in Southern Minnesota. He loved to hunt and fish in his later years. One fall when he was well past 80 he rose very quietly early one foggy morning and went duck hunting with his son's old Swedish musket; walking in tall grass around the ponds where ducks rested. His clothes were soon saturated. He bagged no ducks but suffered no ill effects either.

He spent much time reading the Bible, "Huspostil" and other devotional books, also Decorah Posten and "Ved Arnan". He died 87 years old at the home of his grandson Albert Amundson, Lake Wilson, Minnesota.

A2. Died in infancy.

A3. IVER PEDERSON RUEN was known in Norway as Iver Pedersen Bleikeneiet (Runden).

In 1850 he married Ingeborg Andersdatter, who died when their son Iver I. was born on April 7, 1851. Baby Iver was cared for by his maternal grandparents. In 1852 Iver P. Ruen married Anne Johansdtr Dahlen (under Bleiken ownership.)

April 12, 1858 Iver Pedersen Ruen took out immigration papers for himself, his wife and their three small daughters, Johanne 3, Anne 2, and Karine an infant of several weeks. They came to the home of his brother Ole Ruen in Glenwood township, Winneshiek County, Iowa where they lived for a while in Ole's old log house until Iver purchased a farm from Ole Rya Blegen a short distance northwest of Ole Ruen. For a time then, Iver was known as Iver Blegen, following the Norwegian custom of adopting the farm name. He also used the name Iver Peterson. While in Norway he had learned the shoe making trade which he practiced to some extent in America too. He purchased a 280 acre farm in Allamakee County, Iowa and farming activities soon took all his time. Eight more children were born to them in America, of these four died in infancy. In 1861 their son Iver I. came to America (10 years old) with his uncle Paul Norbraaten Andersen. He was always known as Iver I. Peterson.

On Sunday mornings when there were no Church Services, Iver P. Ruen would read the sermon to his family from Linderod's 'Huspostil' as was the custom among pioneer families. In 1874 when the oldest daughter Johanne married Ole Hersrud they bought 80 acres off the Ruen farm and its buildings and Iver built a complete set of new buildings on the remaining 200 acres. Iver met an untimely death on Sunday morning, August 25, 1876, when he and his son Peter were attempting to ride a fractious colt. When Peter had been thrown off, Iver got on and the horse reared up so violently as to fall over backwards, crushing Iver beneath him. Iver died within a short time. The tragedy was keenly felt by his family and others.

A4. OLE P. RUEN, born on the Ruen farm in Hadeland, was baptized and confirmed by the elder Rev. Heierdahl. He came to America when twenty-five years old, along with his brother Hans twenty-two, in 1850; records from Norway show they received their immigration papers February 2, 1850 and their parents April 19, 1850. The Ruens on coming to Winneshiek County, Iowa, came first to the home of their cousin Hans Eggebraaten who was already established on a farm of his own. The Ruens soon bought 80 acres adjoining the Eggebraaten farm on the south. The deed was made out to Ole Ruen showing that 80 acres was purchased from Tom Strongman, a soldier who had laid claim to it. In 1854 Ole sold this to his brother Hans for $500 and bought 120 acres a mile and a half to the north in section 25 and purchased from David Bender.

On October 29, 1854 Ole married Kari Egge also born on Hadeland on the upper Egge farm—a daughter of Peder Andersen Egge and Kari Margrette Lynne. She was confirmed October 1844, by the younger Rev. Heierdahl. Kari and her sister Marthe had sailed for America April 17, 1854, being 11 weeks on the water, encountering storms and icebergs. At one time they counted 70 icebergs and sailed among these treacherous monsters for a whole week. They landed safely at Quebec, but here many passengers contracted cholera and died. After three more weeks of travel the sisters came to the Ruen home July 24. Kari took a position with an American family where she also learned some English in the six weeks there, and then married Ole Ruen. She walked to Frankville to purchase her wedding dress and Ole who was a shoemaker made her wedding shoes. October 28th they walked nine miles to Rev. Koren's parsonage to be married then back for the celebration. Mrs. Ruen was skilled in the many household arts of these days such as spinning, weaving, soap and candle making, perserving of wild fruits, gardening, etc. Besides his farming Ole made shoes and boots for people in the community. He also substituted for doctor, made purchases for neighbors in his trips to the mill, helped organize a cirulating library and at one time held the office of township Trustee, also served as Justice of Peace.

He enjoyed reading a Chicago newspaper where at one time he read in it of a plow for sale at Boscobel, Wisconsin and he made the trip on foot to purchase it. He kept "Normanden" and "For Hjemmet" also the "Decorah Posten" when it came into publication. On June 17, 1856 he received his citizenship papers. In 1853 when Rev. Nils Brandt organized Lutheran congregations throughout the counties and a call was sent to Rev. U. V. Koren of Norway. Ole was among the signers from the Little Iowa district. When the big stone church was built, he helped in its construction, and the large stone bearing the date 1870 above the door in front of the church was chiseled and placed there by Ole Ruen. At the celebration held July 4 that year on completion of the church the mason from Chicago who finished the church furnished American flags to carry in the procession from the church to a woods north of the Ruen home where a picnic was held. When the procession came as far as the Ruen home, Kari treated them all to "fattigmandbakels'' and wine. When a ladies aid was organized in the church, the first meeting was held at the Ruen home.

The Ruens became parents of eleven children but lost three of them in infancy and a little girl 8 years old.

Of the little ones who died Kari Ruen wrote :

“Fire av mine børn døde da de var smaa Jeg trodde de var mine. Men Herren sa, “Det er ikke saa De hører mig til, og mine de ere, og hos mig ska de være Saa rene og kjære som englene ere.”

Ole and Kari Ruen are buried in the Pontoppidan Cemetery.

A5. HANS P. RUEN, born in the Ruen farm in Grans parish Hadeland, a son of Peder and Anne Kjos Ruen. He was confirmed in Gran's church by Rev. Bugge. Hans was so fond of his baby brother Peder born when Hans was eleven and would spend much time with him. It was a great shock to Hans when little Peder died 21½ years old. He hid in the hay loft so no one would see him cry. Hans had many fond recollections of his boyhood years in Norway.

Hans came to the United States in 1850 with his father, brother Hans and sister Elina, Kjersti and Marthe. On coming to Glenwood Township, Winneshiek County, Iowa the Ruens purchased an 80 acre farm close to Hans Eggebraaten in the eastern part of Glenwood. In 1854 Hans Ruen bought this and later an additional 80 acres in the same section. Here he lived the rest of his life.

In 1855 Hans married Ingebor Strandbakken who was born on Strandbakken farm in Toten, Norway, the daughter of Gudbrand and Marthe Eggebraaten Strandbakken. Hans Ruen and his wife were first cousins, and came to the United States in the same company.

Ingebor was confirmed by Rev. Magellson. She had a long distance to go to meet for confirmation, so she drove their small mountain pony. The confirmands were made to stand erect and quiet during their instruction and recitations which lasted for several hours.

Ingebor worked out for several families and worked for Hans Eggebraatens at the time they and the Ruens left for America. She was given free passage to come along and help care for the children. On coming to Iowa she worked at Teabouts Inn in Frankville where she learned to speak English. In 1852 her mother a widow since 1847 and her other children came to Kilbourn, Wisconsin. Ingebor went to visit them in 1855 and while there married Hans Ruen. He made the trip to Wisconsin on foot, then purchased a little buggy and a horse there so Ingebor and Hans had a thrilling wedding trip back to Iowa where they at once set to work on their farm. By thrift and good management they prospered. In 1866 a new house was built, and in 1867 Hans' half brother Jens and family arrived from Norway, were welcome to live in the old house until they could establish themselves on their own farm.

The Ruens had ten children, all of whom were living when Hans and Ingebor celebrated their Golden Wedding in 1905. Hans was a tailor in Norway and practiced this to some extent in his earlier years here. He was also one of the signers of the call letter to Rev. U. V. Koren to come to America to preach. Hans held different offices in the church and was always a willing helper and donor to its cause.

Hans and Ingebor are buried in the Pontoppidan Cemetery in Glenwood.

Their son Rudolph 83 years old is the last survivor of this large family. He and his wife live in Decorah, Iowa on retiring from farming some years back.

A6. ELINA RUEN SIVESIND was the oldest daughter of Anne Kjos and Peder Ruen, and came to America with her parents, brothers and sisters in 1850. On coming to Glenwood, Winneshiek County, Iowa, she worked for a family named Atkins and later at Lansing, Iowa. This way she learned the English language and the way of life in this new country.

In 1856 Elina married Carl Sivesind (Johnson) who was born at Toten, Norway. They lived on a farm in Glenwood Township, and later purchased a fine farm in Allamakee County where they lived the rest of their lives. They were the parents of four children. Elina and her husband were thrifty and hard working folks and were also well known for their hospitality. Many people have fond recollections of the numerous parties given at the Sivesind home.

Carl and Elina always joined in the games and merry-making at such times. Elina was a wonderful housekeeper and her ingenuity in the various household arts was remarkable. She seemed always to have some little gift to give to little children when they came to visit, also wherever she went to visit. Her pleasant smile and good nature brought cheer to everyone who knew "Moster Sivesind" Auntie Sivesind. Many of her nieces and nephews and others still cherish mementos of her giving.

It must have been a big satisfaction to Elina and Carl to be able to give to each of their sons a fine Allamakee farm. Mr. and Mrs. Sivesind are buried in the Glenwood Cemetery among the many other venerable Norwegian pioneers.

A7. KJERSTI RUEN was the second daughter of Anne Kjos and Peder H. E. Ruen, and came to America with her father, brothers and sisters in 1850.

In 1854 she married Embrick Endrud Benson, one of the earliest settlers in Spring Grove, Minnesota. Embrick came to America from Eggedal, Norway at the age of 13 years in 1842. The family settled at Muskego, Wisconsin where they remained until 1850 and then removed to Winneshiek County, Iowa where in 1854 Kjersti and Embrick were married.

At the time of their marriage the young couple moved to Spring Grove township, taking a tract of wild land one and one half miles southeast of the village. Of the wild tract on which he settled Embrick developed a fine farm of 279 acres. Their early accommodations were crude and primitive but in time he erected a comfortable two story house, a good barn and other buildings. Mr. and Mrs. Benson like all pioneers were hard workers. Kjersti was a good cook; when in need of meat she would kill a little pig, roast it and it was delicious. Although she never joined the ladies aid, she entertained once or twice. Nine children were born to the Bensons, all lived to adulthood.

In 1898 Embrick sold his farm to his youngest son Adolph and the year after the Bensons retired and moved to Spring Grove Village where they lived for over eleven years being amongst its most honored residents. There they also celebrated their golden wedding. Early in February of 1911 both were taken ill and on February 10 Mr. Benson passed away, his wife being united with him in death but nine days later. For fifty-five years they had lived happily together and not for long were they separated.

A8. MARTHE RUEN, the youngest daughter of Anne Kjos and Per H. E. Ruen was only 14 years old when she lost her mother enroute to America. Her first home in America was on the old Ruen farm home about 12 miles east of Decorah, Iowa. She was placed with an English family to learn English. Many lonesome days she spent not knowing a word of it to begin with. One day her mistress sent her out to the wood pile with the dish pan. Martha knew she was to go to the wood pile but couldn't figure out what she would do with a pan they washed dishes in out there. She sat down on the wood block and cried, when the mistress came to learn why the wood chips weren't brought in.

In later years she often told her own family stories she'd evidently learned in these American homes.

She spent some time with her sister Kjersti, and while here she met Stengrim Bergrud whom she married March 25, 1860. He was born in Sigdals parish in Eggedal, Norway and came to this country when 18 years old in 1854, when of the age he could receive his inheritance of $800. His mother died when he was three. his father when he was eight and he was then cared for by an uncle. He first worked in the Lead Mines in Iowa County, Wisconsin for a year then came to Iowa State and in 1856 to Minnesota where he bought a farm three miles south of Spring Grove where he batched until his marriage. Stengrim and Marthe were both thrifty and industrious workers. They were always kind to the sick and the poor.

When they had built their small house, the first window lights were of oiled paper. Mrs. Bergrud later braided straw which she sewed into sun hats and sold in order to buy glass window panes. She also spun and wove cloth from flax straw which she made into grain sacks. She had a knack for all sorts of hand work and delighted in making gifts for her relatives and friends. Many of these are yet treasured possessions of the younger generations.

In 1858 she made the baptismal dress for her niece Augusta Sivesind (Mrs. D. D. Hexom). This same dress was worn by Mrs. Hexoms great grandchild Audrey Marie Westby, baptized October 11, 1942 and again January 1946 when another great grandchild Cheryl Louise Bolson was baptized.

In 1861, came the Indian scare, just after the grain had been stacked. One night about midnight someone knocked on the window and yelled "Staa op Indin er paa harom" (the Indians are upon us). While Stengrim went out to find the oxen in the brush, Marthe loaded on the wagon what she could of bedding, and food. With their baby Sophia just a few months old, they started out for Spring Grove. Women and children were huddled into the stone Church while the men were stationed outside with their flint lock guns to protect them. However, the next morning word came that it was a false alarm and everyone could return home. Martha's time was always well occupied. One day she she saw a wolf out on the field that acted like it had babies near by. Martha and her daughter Louise went into the woods to hunt for the den, taking a pitch fork along for protection. They did not see the mother but found the nest of six bay wolves which they killed one by one, by beating them against a tree. Soon they came home carrying the big fat baby wolves in their aprons. She sold the wolves in Caledonia for $5.00 apiece and with the money bought a trunk for each of her six daughters. Another time she heard something molesting her chickens and found it to be a skunk to which she gave chase. The animal scampered into the wood shed and hid in an old stove pipe. Marthe plugged both ends of the pipe, picked it up under her arm emptied it into a barrel of water.

The Bergruds remained on this farm for ten years and here their first five children were born. In 1871 they bought a 160 acre farm adjoining the city limits of Spring Grove to the southeast. This they bought from Hans Nilsen Myrah. Here two more children were born.

Besides being a thrifty farmer Mr. Bergrud devoted time to other occupations. He owned and operated a sugar-cane press. Each fall people for miles around brought their cane to be made into fine, clear amber sorghum.

Rainy days were spent in his blacksmith shop where he forged necessary articles for his neighbors and his own use. Marthe Bergrud passed away in 1895. The following year their son Peter married and took over the farm which he bought in 1901. Stengrim had his home with them until he remarried and moved to Spring Grove Village. Here he spent his time in the art of woodcraft, making large platform swings and lawn chairs of wood, also some of steel. He made skis of hickory wood which often were elaborately carved. In 1904 he made two miniature churches as gifts for his two youngest grand daughters. These were beautifully made and elaborately carved.

Marthe and Stengrim were always interested in their religious beliefs. In the evenings Stengrim would read to his family from the old Norwegian Bible. Before the church was built, services were often held under the spacious oaks at their home. At one time fifteen were baptized here. Among them Anne Benson (Mrs. O. B. Nelson). Marthe Bergrud was a member of the Spring Grove Ladies Aid in its first existence.

Stengrim died on his first wife's birthday and lies buried beside two of his daughters and his son and wife in the west end Cemetery, while Marthe lies buried on the old Church Cemetery.

The Bergrud farm is today owned and operated by Stengrim's grandson Sigmond Bergrud.

III. IVER H. EGGEBRAATEN SONSTEBY, was born on the Eggebraaten farm in Hadeland, Norway. He was married to Kari Nigarn Egge, also born in Hadeland. In 1829 Iver bought the Sonstebys farm, thus adopting this farm name where they lived until they left for America. In 1850 Iver came to America in company with his brother Peder, sister Anne Svensrud and other relatives. His wife Kari and their two daughters Helen 22 and Marie 18 came here in 1856. Pernille was married to Paul Halvorsen and remained in Norway until 1867.

Iver and Anne lived the last years of their lives with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Iver Hagen. Iver was blind the last 3 years of his life. He died October 15, 1879 and Kari died August 2, 1881

A1. PERNILLE SONSTEBY, oldest daughter of Iver and Kari Sonstebj was born in West Toten, Norway. She married while in Norway to Paul, son of Jacob Halvorsen and wife Pernille Jensdatter. Paul was born on Linne in West Toten.

Since Iver and Kari Sonstebj were parents of three daughters (no son), Pernille as oldest, fell heir to the Sonstebj farm, thus retained her maiden name while Paul adopted this name and became known as Paul (Jacobsen) Halvorsen Sonstebj. Pernille and Paul became the parents of four daughters and then a baby son. In 1867 the parents, their 3 youngest daughters and baby Hans left for America. Johanne the oldest daughter married Hans Grefsrud also born in Toten, son of Anders Larsen Grefsrud and Marthe Heksum. Johanne inherited Sonstebj and Hans inherited Grefsrud. They lived in Sonstebj so assumed that name, and remained in Norway for life.

It was with reluctance that Paul heeded his wife's desire to leave their nice farm and come to America, where her sisters were happily settled near Wisconsin Dells, Wisconsin. Pernille felt America would be a land of opportunities for their children. Their 9 weeks journey in a sailboat was a dangerous one. At one time an iceberg came dangerously close. When it passed someone shouted "Det er forbi" meaning it had passed by. Many put a different interpretation on the words, thinking he meant they were doomed, and they fell to their knees. Jorgine thought everything was funny, especially when the ocean was rough and baby Hans fell off his mothers lap. Jorgine had attended school in Norway so she could read and write fluently, but had not learned much arithmetic as that was for the boys. In Wisconsin she was placed with an English family, a Dr. Jenkins. Pictures of them are still in an old family album.

In 1870 she married Christopher Christopherson and moved by covered wagon to Douglas County, Minnesota. Three years later her parents and family joined them here.

Paul and Pernille spent the rest of their lives with the Christophersons. The other children married and acquired homes of their own in the same vicinity.

Paul never became reconciled to the American farming methods. Pernille kept herself occupied with spinning, knitting, weaving and such besides the prominent food preparing job plus other household duties. The years passed and America didn't fail her; she saw her children marry, prosper and lived useful lives in Church and Community. She died after only five days illness of influenza and pneumonia. Paul died seven years later at the age of 91. His mind was alert to the last. Memories lanes holds the picture of an old man sitting by a window constantly reading his devotional books. Paul and Pernille were laid to rest in the West Moe Cemetery, twelve miles west of Alexandria, Minnesota.

A2. HELENE SONSTEBY second daughter of Iver and Kari was also born in West Toten and came to America in 1850. Her husband Iver Ingebretson Hagen, born in Norway came to America in August 1849 with his sister and brother and their families, settling in Newport, Wisconsin when this country was new.

Helene and Iver were married May 2, 1854 and established their home in Newport. Mr. and Mrs. Hagen had four children who all lived to be past three score years and all lived in the same neighborhood.

These pioneers suffered many hardships. There were no towns at all near them. Mr. Hagen often told of the numerous Indians being around Newport when they first came there and often would come and peek in their windows.

Iver Hagen was one of the first of his relatives to settle in this neighborhood and sent for other relatives to come here also. Several nephews came and after working for him a while, moved to Minnesota, Mayville, North Dakota. Kilbourn (now Wisconsin Dells), was built after Iver came here. People used to float rafts down the river through his land. Some died and were buried there. His son, Emil, while digging for some sand and gravel in later years, found a skeleton believed to be one of these.

Iver and Helene were active church workers and were amongst the first members to help organize the Newport Lutheran congregation in 1851. Iver held church offices for many years. Helene passed away at the age of 59 and upon her death the youngest daughter Johanne Karine took over the household duties until she moved to a home of her own.

*Mr. and Mrs. Iver (Ingebretson)

In 1890 their son Emil took over the home farm where he carried on until his death at 69 years old. The farm is still in the (Hagen) Ingebretson name after over 100 years. Mrs. Ingebretson lives there with her daughter and husband, being the 5th generation to occupy the place.

Iver Ingebretson Hagen was a strong active man and lived to be 92 years old. He was highly respected by all who knew him, among relatives, church and community. He was laid to rest beside his wife in the Newport Cemetery.

A3. MARIA SONSTEBY, youngest dtr. of Kari and Iver and born at West Toten, came to America in 1850, and lived with her parents in Wisconsin. Here she met Martin M. Nelson and they were married at Stoughton, Wisconsin. Her husband also born at Toten, Norway, came to Wisconsin July 15, 1850 about the same time the Sonstebry family did.

Maria and Martin moved from Stoughton to Kilbourn, Wisconsin where they homesteaded. Six sons and four daughters were born to them; all spent their childhood on the farm. When the boys were old enough they went west to Minnesota to homestead.

Nels, married to Anne Severson January 25, 1883 went to Lincoln County to make their home. Here Nels purchased his brother Henry's homestead rights for the sum of approximately $700 for 160 acres with primitive improvements, a board stable, a shanty, a team of horses and a wagon. A lake with oak trees a fourth mile away furnished water and fuel, which meant much in those days.

Maria Nelson passed away at (Kilbourn) Wisconsin Dells 1889 and her husband at Ivanhoe, Minnesota 1912.

IV ANNE EGGEBRAATEN SVENSRUD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Eggebraaten was born at Grans parish, Hadeland and was married to a Mr. Svensrud. They had no children of their own but cared for her nephew Jens P. Ruen, son of Peder H.

Ruen, when the mother died just a month after giving birth to twin boys. The other twin, Hans, died shortly following their baptism, the same day.

Mr. Svensrud died in Norway. In 1850 Mrs. Svensrud came to America in company with her brothers Iver and Peder and family. She lived for a time with a niece Elena Strandbakken Gorgen in southern Minnesota and later with the Jens Ruen family in Glenwood Township, Winneshiek County, Iowa. The last three years of her life she was blind. She died 1881 at the age of 80 years and was buried in the Glenwood cemetery.

V MARTHE EGGEBRAATEN STRANBAKKEN, also born at Grans parish, Hadeland, the youngest daughter of the Hans Eggebraatens. On November 27, 1827, she married Guldbrand Andersen Egge, a son of Anders Ellensen Egge of Upper Egge, Hadeland.

Marthe and Guldbrand lived on the Egge farm until 1829 when they moved to the Strandbakken farm in Toten, Norway, thereby adopting the Strandbakken name. They were the parents of eight children, the oldest, Maria born 1828 on Egge farm, the rest were all born on the Strandbakken farm.

Guldbrand was a cabinet maker, making chests and furniture. People in those days were accustomed to making many things needed in the home. One day when Guldbrand had been making some hooks and eyes for Marthe, a hen was caught in the act of picking them up and swallowing them. The culprit was promptly caught and cut open its gullet, removed the precious hooks and eyes, sewed up the incision and the hen was said to have recovered from the ill effects, except for an offended dignity which it soon forgot too.

Strandbakken (Beach Hill) was a mile in length and the children had many good time sliding down its winding length in the winter on their sleds. Their favorite horse, was a Norwegian mountain pony. Ingebor drove him when reading for the Minister, Rev. Magelson. One day as the horse came running around a building and finding little Anders directly in its path, leaped over him, leaving Anders surprised but unhurt.

Guldbrand Strandbakken was a quiet, religious man. On Sundays when not in church he would read the sermon for the day to his family from the book of sermons, called the "huspostil". Anne said years later that these quiet moments of family worships were of her most cherished memories. This same "Huspostil" originally belonged to Guldbrand's grandfather Ellen Egge who bequeathed it to his son Anders Ellenson Egge, who in turn bequeathed it to Guldbrand. Later it became a treasured possession of Guldbrand's grand daughter Mina Ruen. In it Anders Ellensen Egge recorded the names and birthdates of all of his children—as the following example indicates:

"Anno (year) 1789 den 29 de Mai, klokken 8 formiddag, blev min søn Peder Andersen Egge født til verden paa gaarden Øvre Egge. Gud lade ham opvokse, sine forældre til glæde og fornøielse og sig selv til evig salighed." Peder was the father of Kari Egge, married to Ole P. Ruen.

Guldbrand contracted typhoid fever in 1847 and was attended during his illness, by his wife, day and night. When he seemingly had fought off the disease, Marthe retired for the first time in many nights and daughter Ingebor was to sit at his bedside. However, he assured them he was so much better it was unnecessary and persuaded her to go to bed also.

In the morning he was found to have quietly died in his sleep. Marthe was left a widow with seven children ranging from two to nineteen years.

The older children were obliged to work out. Ingebor who worked for her cousin, Hans Eggebraaten and family came with them to America in company with other relatives as before mentioned.

Two years later (1852) Marthe and the other children came to America too and established homes, coming first to Kilbourne, Wisconsin where they remained two years, then came and settled on a farm near the Ruens and Eggebraatens in Glenwood Township, Winneshiek County, Iowa. The son Anders later became owner of this farm and more recently Marthe's grandson Rudolph Ruen.

Marthe Strandbakken lived to see her children established on prospering farms here in the Middle West. She died at the age of 68 and was buried in the Sivesind cemetery near her home where a marble monument marks her grave inscribed with the words "Fred være med dit støv; velsignet være dit minde" (Peace be with thee, blessed be thy memory.)

A1. MARIA STRANDBAKKEN SANDBECK, oldest dtr. of Guldbrand and Marthe Eggebraaten Sandbeck was born on the Egge farm in Grans parish, Hadeland 1828. In 1829 the family moved to the Strandbakken farm in Toten. Thus Maria was "Hadelening" while her siblings were "Toteninger." In 1847 Marias father died and five years later the family came to America to Kilbourn, Wisconsin where they lived several years, then came to Glenwood Township, Winneshiek County, Iowa. They bought a farm near the Eggebraatens and Ruens, Maria worked for some yankees in Frankville Township, the Cutlers, Lanes and Atkins. Here she learned to speak English fluently.

Maria married Hans Sandbeck, born in Hadeland and came to America in his middle twenties. Mrs. Ole Ruen loaned him $25 to help defray fare cost and he left Norway April 17, 1854, landed in America July 14. He came to the Middle West with little money but with a will to work, spending his first summer working for an Irishman in Rushford, Minnesota for $14 a month. He stayed there three months, then came to the home of Peder H. Ruen where he cut 9,000 rails through the winter for 75c a hundred. He also did some carpenter work and several years later helped in the construction of a Church in this Community. In January 1859 Maria Strandbakken and Hans Sandbeck were married. They bought a farm in Allamakee County, Iowa for which they paid $8 an acre. Hans built their small house himself. He owned a pair of oxen, a wagon and a sled of his own making.

Their assessment on their property the first year was $3. This farm became their home for life.

The Sandbecks were parents of five children. Besides caring for her family and her household duties, Mrs. Sandbeck wove rugs and operated her own spinning wheel. She possessed a sweet christian disposition, and lived to be 74 years old, her husband passing away ten years later. Both were laid to rest in the Glenwood cemetery.

Their son Melvin owned and operated the farm until his death. Mrs. Melvin Sandbeck and her son now own and live there.

A2. INGEBOR STRANDBAKKEN RUEN, born in Toten, Norway married Hans P. Ruen. Their biography is found on page 30.

A3. HANS STRANDBAKKEN, 1833—died in infancy.

A4. ELENA STRANDBAKKEN GORGEN, the fourth child of Guldbrand and Marthe Strandbakken was also born in Toten.

Her father died when she was thirteen. In 1852 her mother and family came to America, arriving at Kilbourn, Wisconsin where they lived several years. Here Elena met and married Guldbrand Jorgensen Gorgen who was also born in Norway. (The Gorgen name no doubt was originally Jorgensen.) The Gorgens moved to Minnesota and began farming in true pioneer fashion near New Richland. This community was as yet quite a wilderness and their life was not without hardships.

Elina and Guldbrand became parents of ten children but had the great sorrow to seven of these to the dread disease, black diphtheria, four during the epidemic in 1861 and again in 1882 when three more were stricken, leaving them with their three youngest sons who grew to manhood, married and had families.

Mrs. Gorgen died in 1906 and his wife 1913.

A5. ANDERS STRANDBAKKEN, born at Toten, Norway, was 11 years old when his father died and 15 when he came to America and to Kilbourn, Wisconsin. Later his mother and family moved to Glenwood Township, Winneshiek County, Iowa to a farm which in time he became owner of.

Anders married Berthe Helmine, daughter of Hans Sivesind. They became parents of four children, a little son who died in infancy and three daughters.

Besides farming Anders operated a lime kiln down in his woods. Lime was needed by all pioneers in the neighborhood. Mrs. Strandbakken died at the age of 36 and Anders when 71 years old. They were buried in the Sivesind cemetery close to his farm. A granite monument marks the final resting place of this pioneer couple who like so many others, braved the perils of a long ocean voyage and other dangers to mould a new life for themselves and their children.

A6. ANNE STRANDBAKKEN ROCKSVOLD, the sixth child of the Marthe and Guldbrand Strandbakkens.

On coming to America with her mother and family, she worked for various American families in Kilbourn, Wisconsin.

She had a great fright one night, when on being alone, she heard Indians yelling and saw them dancing around a fire. They did not approach the house, however.

Anne was 17 when her mother and family moved to Winne-shiek County, Iowa to a farm near relatives. She was confirmed by Rev. U. V. Koren and later worked for a while at a hotel, then a millinery store in Lansing, Iowa. Anne said her experiences here were of great value to her in later life. The people here were very kind to her and took her to church and Sunday school. They gave her a leather covered Bible, a gift she highly prized.

On February 12, 1865 Anne married Ole Rocksvold who was born in Norway. He was a Civil War veteran, a member of the 12th Iowa Volunteer Infantry, Co. G., and was honorably discharged December 7, 1865. He sustained a wound; was also a prisoner at the Andersonville prison.

The Rocksvold home was a farm in Glenwood Township, Winneshiek County, Iowa where their ten children were born.

Anne is remembered as a very good mother and housekeeper. She made many pretty clothes for her children by hand. Ole Rocksvold was postmaster in Glenwood and many enjoyed the hospitality of the Rocksvold home while awaiting the arrival of the mail. Ole was also famous for the fine oxen yokes he made, which were much in demand in pioneer times.

In 1904 Mr. Rocksvold made a trip back to Norway, in company with Ole Kjorlien.

Anne Rocksvold died 1895 at the age of 55 years. 7months. Ole died in 1929. This gracious couple live on in the fond memory of all who knew them.

While there her sister Elena married Guldbrand Gorgen and moved to Steele County, Minnesota, near New Richland. Berthe Helene accompanied them to make her home with them. Later she worked for other people in the neighborhood. On October 2, 1859 Berthe ✕ Helene married Joseph Babcock who was born in New York. Their pioneer days were spent in Faribault community. They were the parents of five children.

Berthe Helene or Helen as she was then called, died at the birth of her daughter Alice. The little Alice was adopted by Henry and Etta Erickson, but died in a runaway sleigh accident February 1882. Joseph Babcock died in 1907.

A8. HANS STRANDBAKKEN, born at Strandbakken farm 1845 in Toten, Norway was but two years old when his father died, and a child of seven when his widowed mother brought her family to America. No further information on his life. Hans died in 1863 being eighteen years old.

Before the railroad was built through the county, mail was hauled from La Crosse, Wisconsin to Caledonia the county seat of Houston County, Minnesota. Anders carried mail from Caledonia to Lenora in Fillmore County, Minnesota where he was met by another carrier delivering it to the nearest railroad further west.

In 1861 Anders married Agnette Lomsdalen and bought a farm four miles south of Spring Grove. Shortly after the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted in the 2nd Minnesota Cavalry and served until the end of the War. A few years later his mother and her two youngest children Johanne and Nils came to America, making their home with Anders and family. Anders and Agnette had nine children.

Anders and his family lived on the Kjos homestead until 1895, when he sold it to his oldest son Lars and moved to a smaller farm adjoining the home farm, which he had previously purchased and where he lived until his death. He was one of Houston County's oldest pioneers and experienced many hardships prevalent in those days. He was blessed with good health and a cheerful disposition and was highly respected and well loved by all who knew him.

A6. JOHAN NILSEN KJOS 1831—1831.

A7. MARTHE NILSDTR KJOS was born at Jevnaker parish and on November 10, 1853, married Anders Hansen, born on the east Dahleneiet, the son of Hans Andersen and Elina Oldsdtr. of Gran's parish who were married in 1831.

When Anders was 15 his father died from blood poisoning from an injury. The following years Anders entered as an apprentice with a carpenter and builder where he served for five years at the wage of 2 to 4 cents a day.

On obtaining a permit from the Government to emigrate to America, Andrew, his wife and his mother left Norway April 7, 1854. Eleven weeks and three days on the water brought them to Quebec, Montreal, Canada where their first child Hans was born. From here they went to Chicago, Illinois. Here Andrew's mother contracted cholera, died and was buried in a Chicago cemetery. They later went to Galena, Illinois and here baby Hans died and was buried.

Leaving Illinois they located near Spring Grove, Minnesota where they lived for ten years. During the first winters here, Andrew attended public school receiving much private help from the teacher Mr. Rawlins. In learning to read and write English he became proficient enough to be appointed to serve on the county board. He also became a naturalized citizen while living here.

In June 1864 the family moved and homesteaded near Dell, Minnesota where a Norwegian settlement was already established.

In bringing some cattle and sheep besides their household belongings as well as six small children this proved a hard, arduous journey. much of the time, rode in the wagon with the children, to their amusement. Nights they all slept under the open sky. On reaching Albert Lea, Minnesota, the family remained there a week while Mr. Hansen worked about twenty miles distant at the Steinar Mikkelson home, then took up a homestead in this neighborhood and moved his family and belongings here. Mr. Hansen built a log cabin here, although many lived in sod houses at the time. Being a man of courage and enthusiasm, after homesteading 160 acres, he also purchased an additional 80 acres adjoining this, from J. C. Easton. Meeting with the many hardships and difficulties, he prospered as much by hard work as intelligence, never losing courage nor permitting his spirit to fall.

When the crops were harvested Anders hauled his grain to either Waseca, Minnesota or McGregor, Iowa to be ground into flour, and at the same time a good supply of groceries were purchased.

Mrs. Hansen was a very hard worker. She would sometimes weave as much as seventy-five yards of homespun cloth at the time, which would not go far in making blankets for the beds as well as clothes for their big family.

During the early years of homesteading she always made all the clothes for her girls and also for the boys. Mr. Hansen always had a suit of store clothes when attending to Civil duties as county clerk, justice of peace etc., but his wife made the cloth and fashioned all his work clothes. Besides her own work she was a wonderful midwife and nurse and "Big Marthe" as she was often called, was popular among her numerous women friends in time of child-birth.

School for the children was very irregular during the winter months when snow was too deep for the smaller children to walk the great distance. During the summer parochial school was held in the different farm homes in the Norwegian language.

Money was scarce and the children seldom if ever had any.

Apples were a big treat to the children, even though they were always halved or even quartered before dealt out to them. Once when two men were visiting at their home, Mrs. Hansen, wishing to show her hospitality, gave each of them an apple. Out in the yard, the men peeled their apples, letting the peels drop to the ground. Mrs. Hansen regretted she hadn't given the apples to her small children as she saw them standing by, catching the peels and eating them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansen were parents of twelve children. Marthe died 82 years old and Anders at 68 years old.

They led a very useful life and it can be truthfully said, the Communtiy was made a better place to live in by their living in it.

A8. KJERSTI KJOS SYLLING, born at Grans parish, Hadeland, came to America. She and her sister Johanna worked in Decorah, Iowa for some people called Paine.

It is told of Kjersti, while helping sheer sheep at the home of her brother-in-law Teman Gilbertson, she was given the wool she clipped off the lamb's tails. This she spun and made into a cap for herself.

She became the second wife of Iver Sylling, son of Anders and Gudbjor Gulsdatter Sylling.

Iver was born in Grans parish Hadeland and had come to this country after completing his Military training in Norway. His wife at that time was Kjersti Oldsdatter. She died in 1867 just two years after their coming to his country.

In 1865 Iver had bought 80 acres of land in Wilmington Township, Minnesota for which he paid $475, and where he lived until his death.

Iver and Kjersti Oldsdatter Sylling were the parents of a daughter Gudbjor who married Martin Engen.

Iver and Kjersti Kjos Sylling had three children, two of whom died in infancy, and Hannah, Mrs. Thor Thorson. After Kjersti Kjos Syllings death Iver married Olava Andersdatter Holum, a widow.

A9. ANNE KJOS GILBERTSON came to this country from Hadeland, the land of her birth, when seventeen years old. In company with her brother Anders, she came directly to Spring Grove, Minnesota. In 1857 she was married to Teman Gilbertson who was born in Ness, Hallingdal, Norway. After his father's death, his mother married Halgrim Paulsen Frysager and when Teman was 18 years old, the family emigrated to America, settling at Rock Prairie, Wisconsin. In 1854 they came to Spring Grove Township settling on a farm 2 miles south of the village.

Mr. Frysager was of a forceful character and soon became a prominent member of the community. Young Teman was reared on the farm and early trained to habits of industry, attending school but two weeks in this country.

When he married Anne Kjos, the ceremony took place in the log cabin built by his stepfather. The bride's sole effects consisted of a few articles tied up in a small bundle and the clothes she stood up in.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Gilbertson (Addie Benson)

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gilbertson (Elmine Olson)

On buying his stepfather's farm he began to cultivate, making use of oxen for draft animals. During the seventeen years that elapsed until their removal to the village in 1874 he erected a number of buildings on the farm including a substantial log house and a stave barn. Brownsville, 30 miles distant was his market place from which he hauled all the material for the buildings on the farm as well as for the hotel he built in the village in 1879. This was a two story brick building and was a shopping place for the traveling public for many years.

Teman served as supervisor of Spring Grove Township for a number of years and in 1871 was elected to represent his district in the State legislature, serving during the session of 1871-1872 under the Administration of Governor Austin.

He was a prominent member of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran church.

In 1882 he had become owner of 500 acres of land and later gave a 200 acre farm to each of his three sons and a 160 acre farm to two of his daughters.

Anne and Teman Gilbertson were parents of twelve children. Their later years were spent in Parkland, Washington, Horace, North Dakota and Davenport, North Dakota. Anne died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Iver Berg, Horace, North Dakota and was then past 80 years old.

A10. JOHANNE KJOS, May 6, 1839—September 5, 1840.

A11. JOHANNE KJOS ELLEFSRUD, born in Grans parish Hadeland, came to America where she worked for sometime with her sister Kjersti, for some people called Paine, in Decorah, Iowa.

In 1874 she married Hans Jensen Ellefsrud. He was born in Grans parish and came to America in 1867 and to Spring Grove, Minnesota where he remained seven years.

After their marriage Johanna and Hans moved to Kindred, North Dakota where they took a homestead and were among the first settlers in that part of the state. After ten years there, they moved back to Spring Grove, Minnesota where they bought ten acres of land adjoining the village where they had a nice big house and other buildings and where they lived until their death. They also owned an 80 acre farm southeast of Spring Grove.

The Ellefsruds were industrious workers and were well liked, by all. They were the parents of two children, a baby boy who died in infancy and daughter Elsie, Mrs. Carl Lanswerk. Mr. and Mrs. Ellefsrud were life long members of the N.E.L. Church of Spring Grove. Mrs. Ellefsrud a member of the Spring Grove Ladies Aid for many years. She died in 1914 and three years later her husband died.

A12. NELS N. KJOS born in Hadeland, and was confirmed in Oslo (then Christiania) Norway. He was also educated there, attending a school equivalent to our high schools. He brought his school books with him to America.

In August 1869 he was united in marriage to Tilla, daughter of Lars and Bertha Lomsdalen.

Tilla was born in Land, Norway and came with her parents to America when only six months old. Nels and Tilla were married at Spring Grove, Minnesota by Rev. Frederick Christian Clausen. They lived for a time at Brownsville, Minnesota, later moving to Fargo, North Dakota where Nels entered the Mercantile business. In 1881 he was city clerk of Fargo.

In 1882 they moved to a farm four miles west of Horace, North Dakota where they lived until their death. They were the parents of eight children, their two first sons born in Brownsville, Minnesota, the rest in North Dakota. Nels Kjos died in 1890, his wife

X Amund Kjos Elvestuen 1806—1888 was born on the Kjos farm in Hadeland.

Amund's grandson Albert Amundsen, remembered hearing his grand father telling of eating bread made of bark in 1812, when he was six years old. There was a crop failure in Norway that year and a consequent famine.

Amund was married in Norway in 1829 to Anne Evensdatter Rossum and lived on Bleiken eie (Bleiken or Blegen ownership) in 1830 and 1840.

Here many of their children were born. Records from Norway inform us they had ten children in all, but some may have died young as their names and dates are not recorded except as stated: Erick born 1830, Kari 1836, Ole 1837, and Ingebor 1839. In 1843 Anders (Amundsen) was born and at this time Amund was known as Amund Olsen Ruen or Bleikeneie. In 1848 Anne was born and 1854 Elena.

In 1854 the family came to Kjos. The census of 1865 lists Amund as renter on Elvestuen under Kjos ownership and had with him Anders, Anne and Elina. Amund was a blacksmith in Norway. His wife is thought to have died in Norway; however she is not listed among those who died in Gran — Brandbu according to word from Norway at present. Emigration records there disclose the fact that both Amund, his wife and their children Anders, Anne and Elina left Norway April 23, 1868, on the sailboat "Manilla" for Quebec, Canada. All of Amunds children came to America with the exception of Erik who married and remained in Norway for life. The Elvestuens came to Glenwood, Winneshiek County, Iowa. Amund spent the last years with his daughter Kari Berg, where he died in 1888.

A1. ERIK AMUNDSEN ELVESTUEN born on Bleiken farm in Hadeland. He married Petronille Pedersdatter Petersen on March 22, 1859. At that time Erik was known as Erik Amundsen. Erik became a blacksmith by trade. One of the first sounds remembered by his children was the ringing of the blacksmith's anvil as he went about his work.

Erik and Petronille were the parents of eight children, three of whom died in infancy or early childhood.

Kari Elvestuen, Peder Rocksvold*

Although all of Erik's brothers and sisters came to America, Erik remained in Norway. It is believed that Petronille became very much attached to their home at Elvestuen and could not be persuaded to leave her beloved native country for a new and strange land. Their two sons Amund and Peder came to America, Amund in 1880 and Peter 1881, coming first to the home of their aunt Anne Elvestuen, Mrs. Anton Rocksvold, in Iowa. From her they adopted the Rocksvold name, a fact which they later had difficulty explaining to the Elvestuens who remained in Norway. A few years later they migrated to Minnesota and then to North Dakota where in 1833 they settled on homesteads in La Moure County. The frontier life proved to be a hard one, but they found the pioneers very friendly. The brothers were joined in 1886 by their sister Anne who also took the Rocksvold name. Later in life she told of walking six miles to the nearest store for provisions and how she was soon riding in style on the hayrake with old Nellie on similar trips.

Erik and Petronille lived to an old age, he died in 1901 and she in 1922. Their daughter Kari Rud and son Ingebrit Elvestuen lived at or near Elvestuen in Norway until 1956 when they both passed away within a six week period.

A2. KARI ELVESTUEN BERGE came to America in 1861 on the same boat as her future husband Iver Berge. Many new and thrilling sights met their eyes on their voyage, one which they are known to think especially worthy of mention was seeing the greatest steamship of that time, "The Great Eastern" at port in Quebec, Canada on their arrival.

Center—Elina Elvestuen Tangen
Right—Kari Elvestuen Berge*

Kari Elvestuen and Iver Berge were married at the home of Kari's cousin Ole P. Ruen. The wedding took place under a large white oak tree, as there were so many guests assembled that the house could not accommodate all. One of the guests remarked "the ceiling is high at Kari Ruens today". Houses in those days had low ceilings.

The Berge home was established on a farm in Glenwood, Winneshiek County, Iowa. Iver purchased 40 acres from Iver Ruen and 80 acres from Hans Blegen.

In 1902 Mr. and Mrs. Berge moved to Northwood North Dakota where they lived until their death. They were the parents of seven children.

A3. OLE ELVESTUEN KJOS, a son of Amund and Anne Elvestuen was born on Kjos farm under Bleiken in Hadeland. In the early 1860's he came to America, using the Kjos farm name. He married Anne Berge. Their home was at Lake Mills, Iowa. Ole and Anne were parents of five children.

A4. INGEBOR ELVESTUEN KJORLIEN, as Ingebor Elvestuen she came to America in 1863. The voyage was hazardous. Storm tossed the little sailboat about, so Ingebor had to hold on to her bunk until her arms ached. They were caught in a hurricane which lasted for three days, and Ingebor concluded this storm came upon them because she had mended a tear in her dress while wearing it. Her mother had told her it was bad luck to mend anything while wearing it, and its not surprising Ingebor in later years warned her children against doing so. It took thirteen weeks to cross the ocean, and many of the passengers never expected to see land again. As was the rule, passengers were expected to furnish enough food to last them through the voyage and before the end of the trip many were running short so those who had a supply had to share with others. We can imagine their feeling of relief on setting their feet on solid ground.

Ingebor came to Winneshiek County, Iowa to her relatives here.

On August 5, 1865 she married Ole Kjorlien. He was born in Vang, Valdres, Norway on the Kjorlien farm where Kjorliens had lived for several generations. Ole and Ingebor began farming in Bluffton Township, Winneshiek County, Iowa. They were parents of ten children of whom a little boy and a little girl died 2½ and 1½ years respectively. Of the rest Edwin now 78 is living.

In 1904 Ole made a trip to Norway in company with Ole Rocksvold.

Ingebor Kjorlien was an earnest christian pioneer woman who was not afraid to face the vicissitudes of the frontier and together she and her husband successfully overcame all obstacles. On retiring from farm work they spent several years at the homes of their children.

Ingebor died 1910 and Ole in 1927.

A5. ANDERS ELVESTUEN AMUNDSEN, a son of Amund and Anne Elvestuen was born in Hadeland. His mother died in Norway. The father and all the children except Erik, came to America where they established a home in Glenwood Township, Winneshiek County, Iowa.

Anders assumed the name Amundsen. On November 2, 1946 he married Ingeborg Ruen, daughter of Jens and Anne Ruen. Ingeborg was also born in Hadeland. The Amundsens were parents of seven children, one (Joseph) who died at the age of six. Anders Amundsen died November 14, 1886 just a few weeks after the birth of his son Andrew who was baptized at the father's deathbed. The Pastor, Rev. Amlund asked Anders if he realized that his son was being baptized, he answered that he did, and those were his last words.

On March 20, 1891 Albert Amundsen moved to Lake Wilson, Minnesota and in October the same year, Ingebor and the rest of the children moved there also. They found the winter rather severe, and the country undeveloped. The next spring they began farming and by hard work were soon making a good living. There were no roads where now are paved highways. At one time they had to use hay for fuel.

The little son Andrew proved to be the very picture of his father. Ingebor often said he was a living picture of Anders and she needed no other picture when she had Andrew. He was tall and handsome and had dark curly hair. Andrew died as a young man of 26, however, and was greatly missed by the mother, brothers and sisters. Ingebor died in 1924.

A6. ANNE ELVESTUEN ROCKSVOLD KIRKEBY, daughter of Amund and Anne Elvestuen, and born in Hadeland, came with her father, 2 brothers and 2 sisters to America; her mother having died in Norway. Anne came to Glenwood Township, Winneshiek County Iowa where a large number of Norwegian families had settled on farms each with its little log cabin home.

Anne married Anton Rocksvold, son of Peter Rocksvold of Toten, Norway. They began farming in pioneer fashion in Glenwood. Anne was a good housekeeper and a good mother to her children. They were parents of four children. Anton, his father and his brother Ole were experts at making shingles and made them in numbers amounting to thousands. Oxen yokes were another of their specialties. Anton served as Recorder of Deeds for Winneshiek County at one time. He was a fine penman as his records will show.

Anton who was never in robust health, died in 1886. Anne later married Christian Kirkeby. They were parents of one child, Hilman. Christian Kirkeby died in 1915 and Anne in 1917.

A7. ELINA ELVESTUEN TANGEN, the youngest child of Amund and Anne Elvestuen, was born in Hadeland and came to America in the late 1860's with her father (then a widower) and her brothers and sisters except the brother Erik who remained in Norway for life.

*Mr. and Mrs. Anton Rocksvold
(Anne Elvestuen)*

Elina married Gulbrand Tangen, born in Olso, Norway's Capital City. His parents were Hans and Marthe Tangen.

Elina and Gulbrand became the parents of five children. Elina died in 1909 and Gulbrand in 1928.

XI JOHN KJOS SR., son of Osten and Kjersti (Berven) Kjos was born on the Kjos farm in Hadeland, as the youngest son.

In 1842 he married Anne, widow of Anders Nordbraaten whose maiden name was Anne Ostensdatter Bleiken. She and Anders Nordbraaten were the parents of three children. Paul Nordbraaten Andersen, Albert (Esten), and Anne (Mrs. Peder Kodalen, Nelson).

John and Anne became the parents of three children, all born in Hadeland. Kjersti born 1842 on the Kjos farm, Kari 1845 on the Smedshammer eie and John Jr. 1849 on the Nordbraaten farm under Baalrud ownership. In 1865 John Sr., his wife and children Kari and John Jr. were renters on Nordbraaten. Kjersti the oldest daughter had left for America in 1864. John Kjos Sr. died at the home of his son John at Kindred, North Dakota and Anne died at Highland Prairie, Minnesota.

A1. KJERSTI KJOS TRYHUS EDWARDSON was born to John and Anne Kjos on the Kjos farm in Grans parish, Hadeland, Norway. In 1864 she came to America and to Spring Grove, Minnesota, where she married Anton Haugstad Tryhus. His name in Norway was Haugstad. On coming to America he and some of his brothers made their home with their half sister Mrs. Mathea Tryhus therefore adopted that name while others retained the Haugstad name. After 3 or 4 years near Spring Grove, Kjersti and Anton left by covered wagon to seek their luck in North Dakota. Taking their three small children with them they started out on their venture to the Red River Valley and later homesteaded four miles from Kindred, North Dakota near the Sheyenne river.

Here five more children were born to them.

Mr. Tryhus died in 1885 and Kjersti was left with eight children which was a hard task in those pioneer days.

In 1888 she married Peder Edwardson of Kindred, a native of South Land in Norway. Mr. Edwardson was the first mail carrier out of Kindred. He retired after 32 years of service. Mr. and Mrs. Edwardson were parents of one child Emma who with her husband Edwin Guberud farmed the parents farm from 1915 until Mr. Guberuds death in 1941, the farm then passing on to the grandson who farmed with his mother.

Peder and Kjersti lived with the Guberuds for life. Kjersti, a member of the Norman Lutheran Church and Ladies Aid, died in 1919 of bronchitis.

A2. KARI KJOS JENSEN, born on Smedshammer eie farm in Hadeland, married Lars Jensen who was born in Denmark. They were the parent of eight children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jensen made their home on a farm at Kindred, North Dakota. Later their son became owner of this farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Jensen (Kari Kjos) and Clara

A3. JOHN KJOS JR., John Johnsen Kjos, the youngest child of John and Anne Kjos grew to manhood in Norway. In 1859 he emigrated to America, coming to Spring Grove, Minnesota. While there he was married to Guri, daughter of Ole Lovlei on September 3, 1873, who became a steadfast helpmate until his death. Guri was born in Sigdal, Norway and came to Spring Grove in 1872.

In 1874 Mr. and Mrs. Kjos moved to a farm northeast of Kindred, North Dakota where they homesteaded and made their home until death.

They were the parents of nine children, three of whom died young. Mr. Kjos spent almost three years in bed. Complications and old age ended his life 1933 and Mrs. Kjos passed away in 1942.

John and Guri were among the early pioneers who did their part in the upbuilding of the community in which they lived and endured the hardships of pioneer life. They were members of the Norman congregation where Mrs. Kjos was also a Ladies Aid member. They were good neighbors and true friends.

XII KJERSTI KJOS VIKEN, the twelfth and youngest child of Osten and Kjersti (Berven) Kjos was born in 1812 and lived to be 103 years old, she died in 1915. She lived all her life in Brandbu, Hadeland.

In 1835 she was married to Halvor Pedersen Viken. They became the parents of one child, a daughter Kjersti who married Guttorm Strande. They lived on the Viken farm, and thus used the Viken name. In 1875 Kjersti Kjos Viken then a widow was a pensioner on the Viken estate. (A pension being paid her by the heirs of the estate). Kjersti died in 1915, in Norway.

Kjersti and Guttorm Strande Viken had three children, Hans, Halvor and Marthe. When Guttorm Viken died, Kjersti married Anders Viken. They were parents of three children, Guttorm (1) and Guttorm (2) both of whom died in infancy and a daughter Mari who married Karl Kjos and lived in Malta, Montana.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In assuming the work of compiling family book II, I am deeply indebted to many who have done so much to help make this a success. With warmest thanks of gratitude I make the following acknowledgements —

Miss Anne Kjos, 80 years old who owns and lives on the Kjos Estate

*Home on the old Kjos Estate
Hadeland, Norway, 1953*

Miss Anna Kjos, Hadeland, Norway, a very fine relative since our first contact in 1953. From her I received our early Kjos records, some geneology and the picture of the old Kjos home. Anna owns and lives on the old Kjos estate.

Mrs. Elise Eid Bredesen also a Kjos relative in Hadeland furnished much valuable information.

Mrs. Sophie Grefsrud Hanson, Tacoma, Washington, a good friend of book I days not only loaned me her Geneology which contained much I could use, but she referred me to her two sisters on Hadeland, Mrs. Tilla Grefsrud Strande and Mrs. Hilda Grefsrud Aasbrien. They are distantly related to the Eggebraatens and compiled the entire Johanne Sonsteby Grefsrud record, now on record for the first time.

In acknowledging our U.S. relatives whose records and names will follow, may I give special mention of three who compiled entirely, our three longest records of book II, Mrs. L. O. Monson, Lily, South Dakota; Mrs. Kenneth Salveson, Forest City, Iowa and Miss Maria Myrah, Spring Grove, Minnesota.

C O D E

As in book I, only birth and death dates are used. No marriage dates used except when specified as such. The Roman Numerals used in the records signify the Ancestral roots of our family trees in Hadeland, Norway; the As—our pioneer Ancestral tree trunks in the U.S., the Bs, Cs, Ds, etc., the branches and twigs which comprise our big widespread trees.

The letter and number before your name is your code number for example:

VI. Anne Kjos Eggebraaten Ruen (Record).

A8. Marthe Ruen Bergrud.

B5. Peter Bergrud.

C1. Minerva Bergrud Sivesin.

C1. is the first child of B5. who is the 5th child of A8.

A8. is the 8th child of VI.

The marriage of Anne Kjos and Per H. Eggebraaten Ruen joined the two big Kjos and Eggebraaten families, which seemingly has had far reaching effects as noted in the numerous intermarriages between the descendants of these families down through the generations since.
